New Qualification

NOCN Level 5 Certificate for Certified Energy Efficiency Practitioner

Dear Colleague,

As part of our commitment to provide qualifications in line with industry requirements we regularly review all qualifications across all occupations.

A review has been made via NOCN Cskills Awards and we now wish to offer the following qualification.

NOCN Level 5 Certificate for Certified Energy Efficiency Practitioner (603/7171/7)

The qualification has two pathways to choose from:

- NOCN Level 5 Certificate for Certified Energy Efficiency Practitioner – Buildings
- NOCN Level 5 Certificate for Certified Energy Efficiency Practitioner – Industrial

The above qualifications are 'live' for registration – 1 March 2021.

The purpose of this qualifications are to provide learners with the basic knowledge in energy efficiency and the energy auditing field using Building Rating System (BRS), to ultimately enable achievement of local energy efficiency initiatives.

The Level 5 qualification(s) is aimed at graduates with a background in chemical, mechanical, civil, electrical or architectural engineering, or those in their last year of study in related fields.

- Quartz web, Horizon, Website are to be updated accordingly with the new qualification structure.
